A rather curious arrangement of the hair came into vogue in 1330. The hair was parted in the middle, two very short locks being made to curve out on either side the forehead, the two hind plaits were then crossed and brought under the ears up the sides of the face, being fastened among the hair which hung on the sides of the head. In 1340 the two plaits were carried up the sides of the face, having between them and the cheeks a long piece of straight hair cut squarely to the length of the plaits. In the frescoes of the chapel of St. Stephens, Westminster, Queen Phillippa and her Westminster, Queen Philippa and her three daughters are represented with their hair thus arranged.

Washington Money Lenders.

When a government clerk gets deeply "in a hole," or suffers the agonizing dis-comfort of being on "his last legs," he generally appeals for a lift to one who, in Washington parlance, is known as a 10-percenter. This is a specimen of humanity that loans money for sums not ex-ceeding half the borrower's salary, at the a slave. rate of 10 per cent. per month; that is, if rate of 10 per cent. per month; that is, if your salary is $100 a month, he will loan you $45 in cash and take your note for $50, payable in thirty days. These money-lenders claim this exorbitant interest on the ground that the unsufficient security subjects them to frequent losses. But I do not see how they can lose; a clerk is completely in their power. They never accept a note without the name of a second clerk in gook standing as an en. second clerk in gook standing as an endorser. If either clerk refuses to pay, his position in the department can be placed in jeopardy by the 10-percenter filing a report of disregard of obligation him. The lender's only danger of loss depends upon the rare contingency of death, resignation, or discharge severing both the principal's and the endorser's connection with the department before the note falls due. This money-lending business- is a lucrative one, foundation of many a handsome fortune in Washington has been thus laid .- Atlanta Constitution.

In the Twinkling of an Eye.

The photograph is now as nearly "instantaneous" as possible. When everything is ready, "Click!" and the artificial cyclid has opened and shut. What has it seen in that little instant of time? | the spring goods. If anything is in motion, it has been perceived in that fragment of a second as if motionless. Men walking along the street are pictured with uplifted feet. A trotting horse may be caught with all of its four legs in the air, viewed just at the very moment when he was clear of the ground. A man leaping with a high pole may be pictured in mid-air, precisely in the position in which he appears at the highest altitude. Motion seems rest. But this is not the most wonderful of its powers. Far beyond the keenness of uman vision is its range of sight. If the light is good, this sensitive plate of glass will have recorded and discerned a thousand uplifted faces as perfectly as the hu-man eye perceives the features of a single countenance. Every expression of joy or sorrow, every peculiarity of dress or attitude, the leaves of a forest or the grass by the wayside, will have been seen and delineated and retained perfectly in far less than the briefest possible twinkling of a human eye .- Chambers Journal.

Bonething About Catarrin

A great many people are addicted with Catarrin who do not know what ails them; and a great many more continue sufferers who might be cured.

Thickening of the membrane which lines the nasal passages, thus making breathing difficult; a discharge from the nostrils, more or less copious, watery or thick, according to the stage of the discase; a sense of fullness in the lead; a constant hedination to spt; and, in advanced cases, a dropping of intensely disgusting matter into the throat, are a tew of the prominent symploms of Catarris.

Deafness, inflamed eyes, neuralgic pains, sore throat and a loss of sonse of smell, are very often caused by Catarris.

All these troubles are cured by Piso's Remedy for Catarris, Relief is incl immediately after beginning its use, but it is important that it be continued without intermission until the satarrhal vicus 1s expelled from the system and heatthy socretions replace the diseased action of the microis membrane. Manifestit it is unreasonable to expect a cure in a short time of a disease that has been progressing for months or years.

This question of time is provided for in the putting up of Piso's Remedy for Catarris. It is so concentrated that a very small dose is directed. wasted $5,000 on boomerang throwers You've heard of Australian bushmen, he said, "who have a weapon made of a bent stick that they throw with wonderful skill, hitting the prey unerringly, the boomerang returning of stelf to fall at the feet of the marks man? I had an agent go from Londer to the wilds of New South Wales; but he writes me that the accounts are two thirds lies, and the remaining (isn't worth bringing away. The boome rang is a fact, and the native Australian ravages fling it at game, missing door as often as hitting; and it will return if it strikes nothing, to somewhere near The starting point, but with no sort of certainty. My man searched thorough ly, and witnessed the feats of the bes experts to be found, but they amou ed to nothing in particular. The fo mous boomerang is practically a myth.

THE Washington Post says: "Th lady clerks in the Postoffice Depart ment and some of the gentlemen clerks too, make a great pet of little Miss Mollie Vila, the daughter of the Post master General, who visits the depart ment every Saturday, spends the day clerks, and goes home with her fathe in the afternoon. She is a pretty little girl, with red cheeks and bright, spark ling eyes, and a tendency to say shar things. Last Saturday about 12 o'clock when she wanted some luncheon, she was going to her winer, when one the ladies remarked that it would b useless, as she had just seen him cap tured by a Senator. 'Senators are bother, I must confess, exclaimed Mis Mollie, petulantly; and it can hard be questioned that she expressed sentiments that her father frequently

WHEN a woman's temper is bad it i ery bad. An Episcopal rector Elizabeth, N. J., has experienced realizing sense of this fact. A prom nent lady member of his congregation wanted the pastor to wait until she had the baptismal font arranged before b would administer the sacrament. A noyed by the lady's interference, the rector objected, whereupon, her ter-per being unable to brook a nproof, she struck the clergymm a resounding blow on the chee It was a dramatic tableau the shocked those present and furnishe food for gossiping tongues. The san lady, who is very wealthy, very auster and very active in charitable under takings, some years ago ordered and iron colin from one of the undertaker in town. She has frequently visite his store and spent hours in gazing the casket which was to be her last re ing place. In some manner this leak cut and the place was instantly l sieged by scores of fashionable ladie who pleaded hard to be permitted who pleaded hard to be pe see the coffin. The undertaker very angry and puzzled how to get i of his fair visitors.
